

Project Life Cycle

User-centered

User goals, needs, and task workflows must be understood to create a system that meets their needs.

Phased

Release essential features early, get feedback, revise and enhance as needed.

Iterative

Features and interactions are refined through iterations.

