

About the Forum

The Forum for the Future of Higher Education is a community of academic leaders and scholars from across the country who explore new thinking in higher education. The Forum facilitates shared inquiry and collaboration on issues likely to influence the future of higher education, primarily in economics and finance, structure and strategy, and technology and learning. The Forum sponsors research, presents findings at annual symposia, and disseminates its work throughout the higher education community. The Forum is an independent nonprofit organization resident at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

About the Ford Policy Forum

The Ford Policy Forum studies key economic issues affecting higher education and is designed to develop policy recommendations and initiatives. The Ford Policy Forum is sponsored by the Ford Foundation and is chaired by Michael McPherson, president of Macalester College, and Morton Owen Schapiro, president of Williams College.

About NACUBO

For more than three decades, the National Association of College and University Business Officers (NACUBO) has been and continues to be the preeminent association for those involved in the leadership, management, and administration of higher education. NACUBO seeks in its mission to anticipate issues affecting higher education and to promote institutional effectiveness and exceptional business management practices. NACUBO members are the chief administrative and financial officers at more than 2,100 colleges and universities.

Ford Policy Forum 2003 is a publication of the Forum for the Future of Higher Education Copyright 2003, National Association of College and University Business Officers and the Forum for the Future of Higher Education